ROYAL AIR FORCE CLUB

— FOUNDED 1918 —

A WARM CLUB WELCOME

“Over one hundred years of exclusivity”

The Royal Air Force Club celebrated its one hundredth year since formation in 2018 with a visit by our Royal Patron, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

Combining RAF and aviation heritage with a host of excellent modern facilities, accommodation and dining, the Club currently counts around 25,000 Officers and Former Serving Officers of the Royal Air Force and their families as valued members. Members and guests enjoy a ‘home from home’ in central London and a warm welcome in a historic environment.

Hold your corporate or private event at the Club and benefit from a wonderful Grade II listed building with beautiful meeting and events spaces in the heart of Mayfair.

“Great food, great service, proud to entertain in such prestigious surroundings. Best Club in London.”

MEETINGS & EVENTS AT THE CLUB

“A hidden gem in the heart of Mayfair.”

With our exclusive history and Royal pedigree, we specialise in events that require a unique venue, prestigious, secure Mayfair location and discrete approach to organisation. Positioning ourselves as a ‘hidden gem’ for event organisers in the know, our vast array of meeting and conference rooms make the Royal Air Force Club the perfect venue for corporate and business events.

We happily accommodate all types of functions from meetings and conferences to networking events, product launches, dinners, lunches and cocktail receptions. Each event is treated with the care and attention it deserves, with guests guaranteed a memorable experience when they spend time with us here at the Club.

For further information on rates, menus and availability, please contact the Meeting and Events Team on 020 7399 1003/4/5 or email meetingsevents@rafclub.org.uk

SEASONAL CUISINE & HANDPICKED WINES

“Let us take your event from the ordinary to the sublime.”

Corporate events need not mean unexciting, unenticing menus and we are proud to offer beautifully presented seasonal menus created by Executive Chef Michael Dutnall and his team.

A large conference for 140 will be treated with the same care and attention as an exclusive gourmet dinner for eight, drawing upon our Executive Chef's twenty plus years of expertise devising perfectly balanced menus for all seasons. From lighter, healthier dishes and inspiring break time options, to sandwich lunches or more traditional fare with a classic feel, all our menus are devised with passion, attention to detail and your budget in mind.

Menus are complemented by a wide variety of wines from the Old and New Worlds selected by our Director of Food & Beverage, Serge Pradier, whose knowledge in pairing menus to the perfect wines is unsurpassed. Let us take your event from the ordinary to the sublime, you will be in the safest of hands.

THE SOVEREIGNS' ROOM

“Everything was perfection:
the table setting, the professional, unobtrusive service and the attention to detail throughout.
It made for a delightful and memorable family occasion.”

THE SOVEREIGNS' ROOM

The magnificent Sovereigns' Room with its ornate sky-painted ceiling and mirrored panelling, creates the perfect ambience for receptions and launches for up to 200 guests or 140 seated theatre-style for a conference or event. This spacious room, the largest the Club has to offer, also benefits from a drop down presentation screen and Hearing Loop facilities.

Lavishly decorated, in shades of gold and cream, this former Ballroom boasts beautiful crystal chandeliers and impressive stone fireplaces, and works equally well for private dining for up to 140 seated guests. The Churchill Bar or Presidents' Room can be used as a reception room prior to a lunch or dinner in the Sovereigns' Room.

The room takes its name from our Royal Patron, Her Majesty The Queen and features a unique portrait by award winning artist Ben Sullivan (pictured top right), unveiled by Her Majesty to mark the Club's centenary in 2018.

A classic, versatile room located on the first floor of the Club, the elegant Presidents' Room is decorated with portraits of the current President and distinguished past Presidents of the Club.

Accessed via the Club's memorable 'Squadron Badge' corridor, it is suitable for small conferences, medium-sized meetings, drinks receptions and dinners for up to sixty people.

The adjoining Victoria Bar with ales on tap is perfect for pre-drinks, a cash bar, or a break-out session and can be used in conjunction with the larger Sovereigns' Room opposite.

THE HODGES ROOM

“We had a highly successful event in the Hodges Room yesterday. My guests were highly impressed by the extraordinary levels of service, the quality of the food and wine, and the whole ambience of the Club.”

THE HODGES ROOM

The Hodges Room, situated off the Club's 'Squadron Badge' Corridor, commemorates Air Chief Marshal Sir Lewis Hodges, who was instrumental in securing the future of the Royal Air Force Club.

This outstanding room offers a truly magnificent setting for formal dining. With two beautiful chandeliers hanging from the ornate ceiling, this room is the ideal space for any meeting or special occasion for up to thirty guests, or can accommodate forty guests for a standing cocktail reception.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN SUITE

Comprising of The Spitfire Room and The Hurricane Room

“Everything ran like clockwork. We have already received many compliments from our guests, all of whom really enjoy visiting the Club for these events. The canapés were delicious and the drinks flowed freely.”

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN SUITE

The modern, yet classic, Battle of Britain Suite on the lower ground floor incorporates both the Spitfire Room and Hurricane Room and works very well for presentations and meetings.

This extremely well-equipped room with combined room dimensions of 15m x 4.9m can be used as one large conference area for up to sixty people or hold a cocktail reception for up to eighty people.

Individually, the two spaces work well for meetings or private dining for up to twenty people in each, and with a sliding door between the two spaces, can also be used as a breakout space, or pre-drinks area. The Battle of Britain Suite can also accommodate a dancefloor for parties and wedding receptions.

THE LANCASTER ROOM

A new addition to the Club's versatile range of function rooms is the Lancaster Room. Occupying the space which formerly housed the Club's Study – the Lancaster Room is a light and airy medium-sized meeting or private dining room with feature fireplace, alcoves and aviation artwork. The room also works well in conjunction with the larger Battle of Britain Suite as an additional break-out room.

“A flexible new addition to the Club's conference and meeting room portfolio.”

THE BOARDROOM

The Boardroom, adjacent to the Club's Dining Room on the ground floor, is an intimate space with fireplace and natural daylight. It is an affordable solution for small meetings, lunches or dinners catering for up to eight people.

“A unique space, guaranteed to be a talking point over dinner.”

THE CHURCHILL BAR

Named after Sir Winston Churchill, whose likeness gazes down from above the wood-paneled bar, the imposing Churchill Bar is most frequently used for pre-dinner drinks receptions prior to larger seated dinners or events in the Sovereigns' Room on the floor above. The space also works well when combined with a private dinner in the adjacent Library.

“A classic bar and reception room which simply oozes character and style.”
